Dedication

Dedication to one's job is a virtue found in many men. But in few is it so intense as in Brother Herman F. Elsaesser, S. J. Dedication to his job—actually many jobs in one—is the driving force of Brother Elsaesser's life.

Thirty years ago he decided to dedicate his life to God in a very special way as a member of the Society of Jesus. Almost a third of his life as a religious, the last nine years, has been served selflessly here at Loyola.

During those years Brother Elsaesser's duties have been many and varied. Some have been big, some small, all necessary. The most important, of course, is his teaching of Latin. Brother is also head coach of Loyola's City Championship golf team. His duties go far beyond the classroom and the fairway. This dedicated man also serves as refectorian, takes care of the faculty lounge, and watches over food supplies for the Jesuit community.

It is to this man of dedication-dedication to God and to others—that we dedicate our book—THE YEAR '68.

Loyola—a place to seek to search to learn to discover others watch, follow, imitate first then on to leadership on to the world

a place to think to be alone

with problems, joys, questions

a place to dream

to wonder why

a place to hope to plan futures

to shape lives

a place to struggle

to accept defeat

with new resolutions

a place to work

to relax to rest

a place to leave

one day

looking ahead

a place of bewilderment uncertainty anxiety puzzling abstractions and hidden ideas
a place of frustration
yet a place of success and final achievement

a place we all know

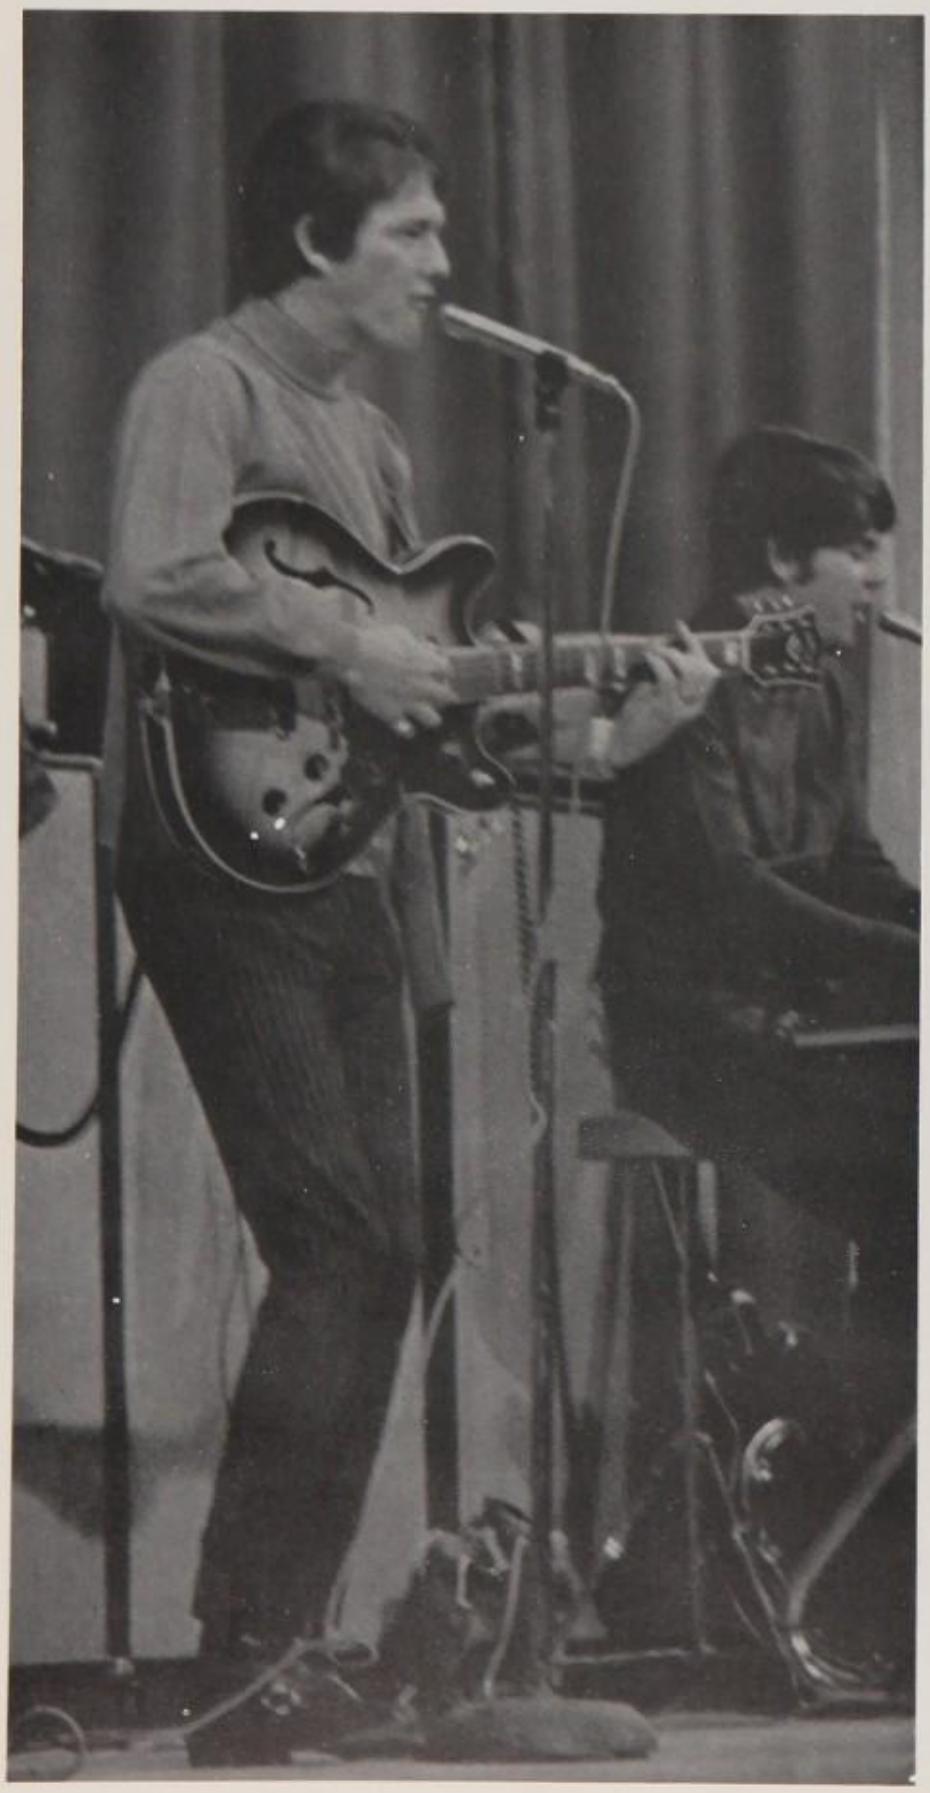
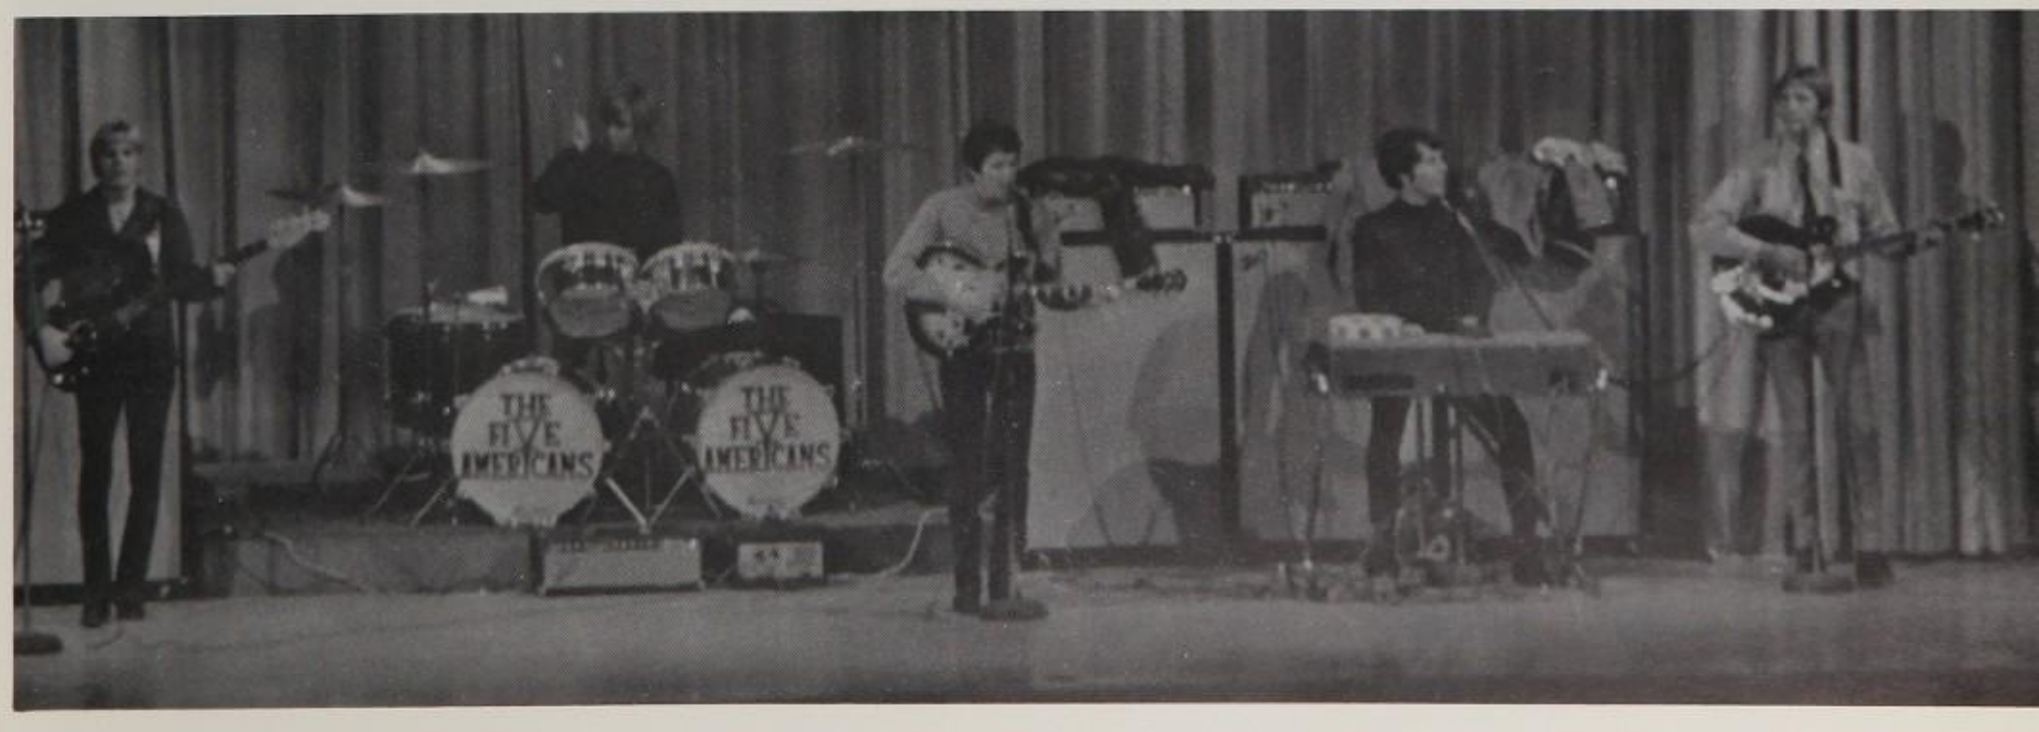
HOMECOMING '68—Every morning the Peanuts gang frolics on the newspaper pages. One night in October, under the leadership of WWI flying ace Snoopy, they jumped off the newsprint and zoomed into the LA gym.

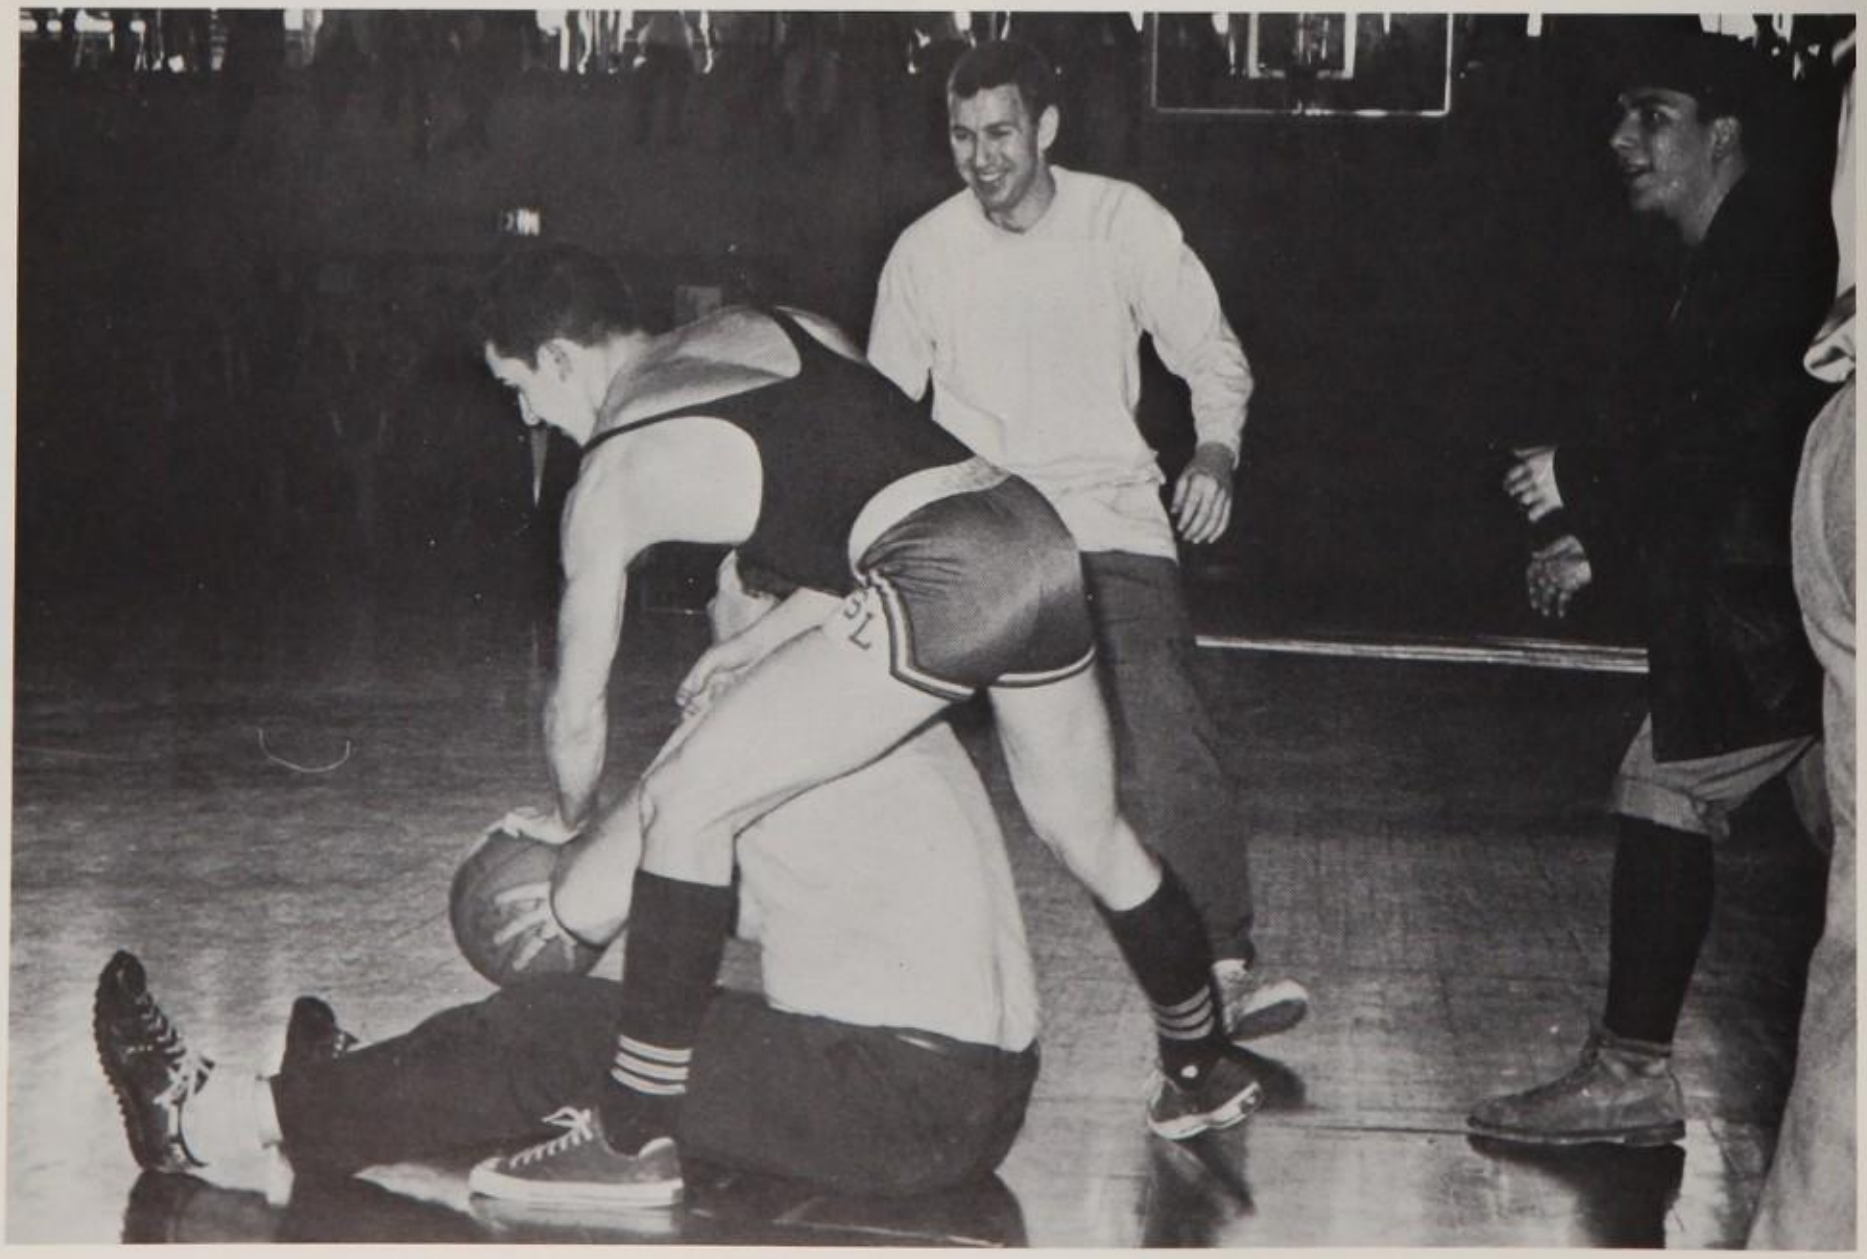
As guests in the lovable beagle's orange bungalow, we munched dog biscuits, stood in awe at his Van Gogh, and watched an empty television set. The vicious kite-eating tree was even there to frustrate good ol' Charlie Brown. Good grief!!

CAINE MUTINY—The Loyola Drama Club put forth its best efforts in its first-rate production of The Caine Mutiny. Under the able leadership of Mr. Reuter, the cast gave an excellent performance of the court martial scene adapted from Herman Wouk's pulitzer prize winning novel.



FIVE AMERICANS—For the first time at Loyola, the student body has been able to secure a big name band for a concert date. It was a new experience for the student council as well as the student body. The gym was full of students from all of the area high schools when the Five Americans appeared on stage. We all look forward to other successful concerts in the coming year.





STUDENT-FACULTY BASKETBALL GAME—It was all in fun, but you'd never know it from the way the teachers and students went at each other. Everyone got into the act as the faculty and students were allowed to knock each other around for an hour or so. All in all, the game provided a good laugh for everyone present.

CHINESE PARTY—The arrival of Mr. Kuo brought to Loyola the beginnings of a new club —the Chinese Club. Mr. Kuo and his students celebrated the Chinese New Year in Oriental splendor. With many of the faculty present, they feasted on Chinese delicacies prepared specially by Mrs. Kuo in observance of the new Chinese "Year of the Monkey".

BAL MASQUE—There are many species of animals that sleep during the day and prowl at night. One of these nocturnal animals is the Loyola student. One night in February every species of the order gathered in a crepe paper be-decked LA cafeteria. Babies attended by their nurses, Mickey Mouse, Kublai Kahn, Raggedy Andy, Lancelot with Guenevere, and those in the coat and tie every day plumage of the Loyola student.

Some thought the occasion was Mardi Gras; but those of us there knew that it was really us being ourselves under the guise of the Bal Masque.

TALENT REVUE '68—Every February, the spotlight on talent moves from Hollywood and Vine to Lake and Laramie The occasion is the incomparable LA Talvue. On the second night of the fantastic two-night sell-out show, the entries from area Catholic high schools vie for the Hogan Trophy.

Singers, pianists, pantomime companies, jazz musicians, dancers, and other performers compete. This year's show was acclaimed the best ever. Whether it was or not is up to each member of the audience. For Loyolans it certainly was. Our jazz band walked off the stage with the large group award and the Hogan Trophy. We could hardly have done better.

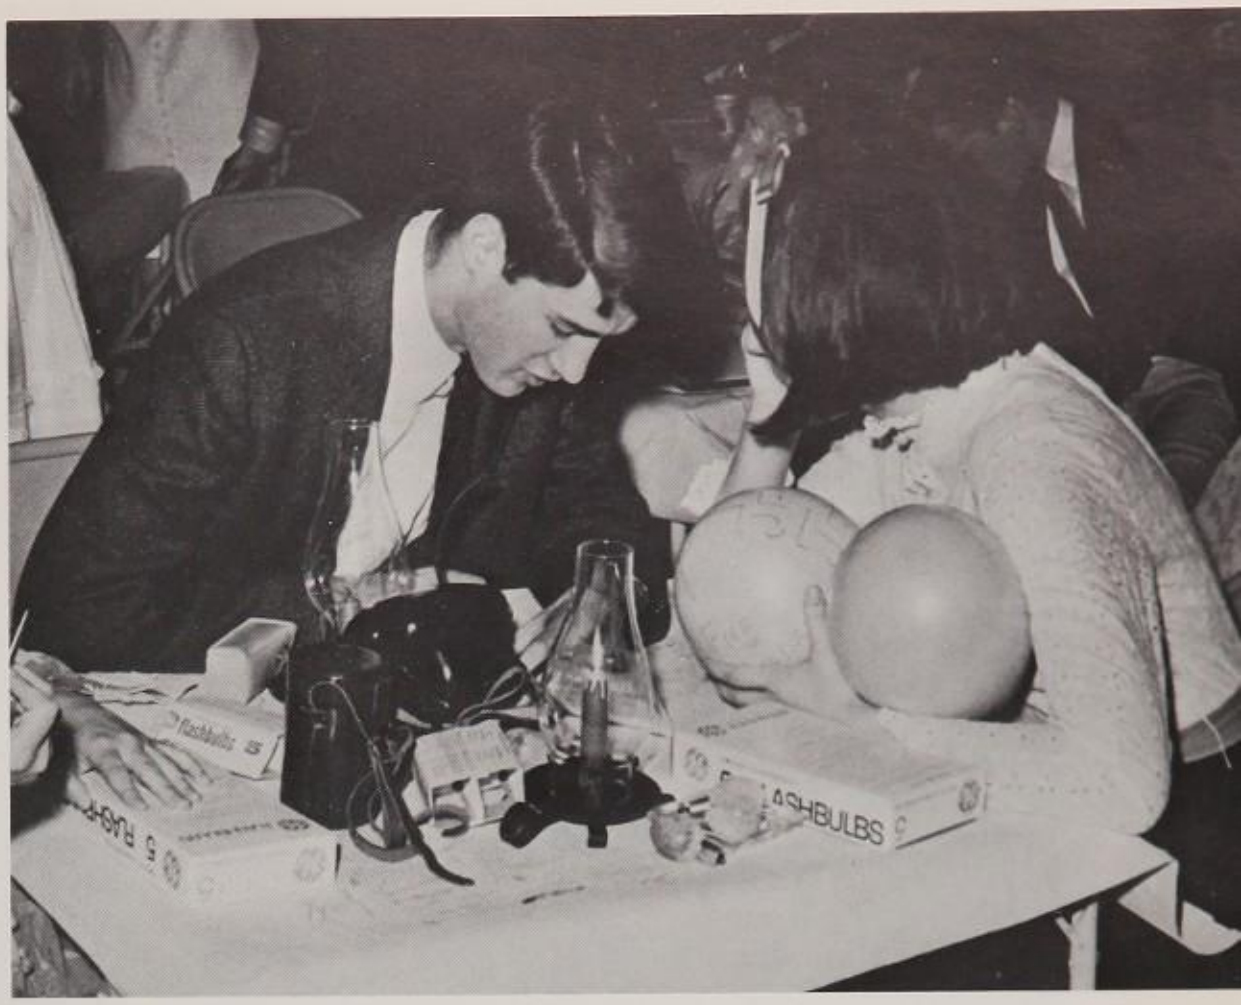
MUSIC MAN—Prof. Harold Hill, the good guy swindler, chugged into LA's Little Theatre in March. It was a first for the Academy—our first musical.

Months of preparation went into the colosal production. Backdrops had to be painted, costumes and make-up ordered, music rehearsed, a "cast of thousands" assembled, and lines learned.

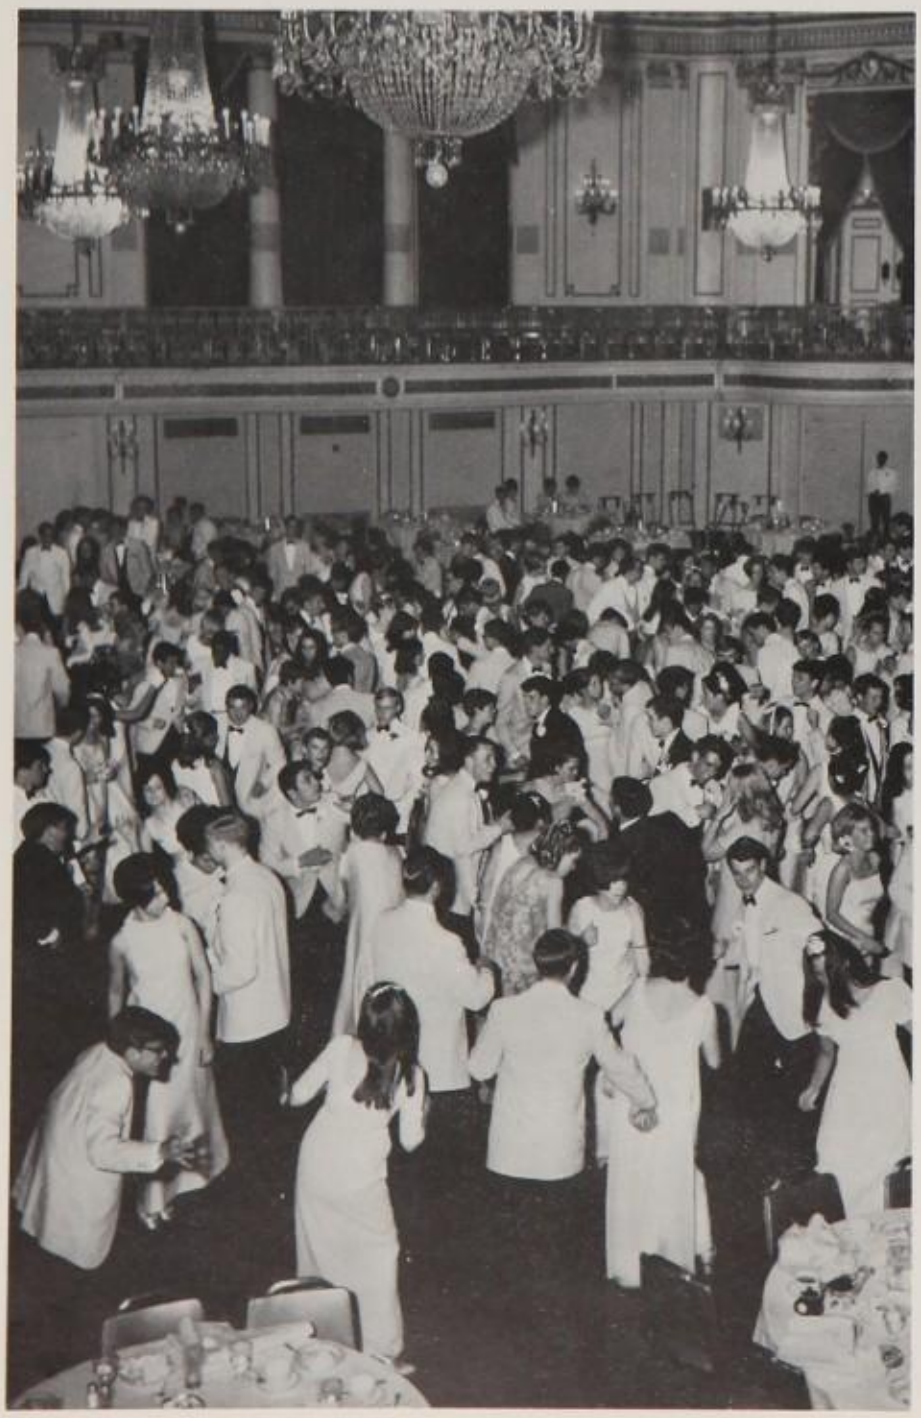
Music Man was unequivocally a success. The applause at the conclusion of the five standing-room-only performances could be heard as far away as Gary, Indiana; Gary, Indiana. Larry Basil was impressive as Prof. Hill, and Lynn Hoffman of Regina played Marian, the coy librarian.



TULIP TROT '68—Late April brings a wonderful malady called Spring Fever. The only cure known to modern medicine is for a victim to free himself of all responsibility and to take a long romp in a park, awakening to the whispers of spring in his ears. Group therapy is often recommended.

The fever struck strong at LA this year and many of the victims sought cure at the '68 Tulip Trot. Even before Tiny Tim brought it into vogue, they "tip-toed through the tulips." Gilson park, circa 1900, was recreated in the gym; and a beer garden for those allergic to the normal cure for Spring Fever was set up. Total success—all were cured—at least for a little while.

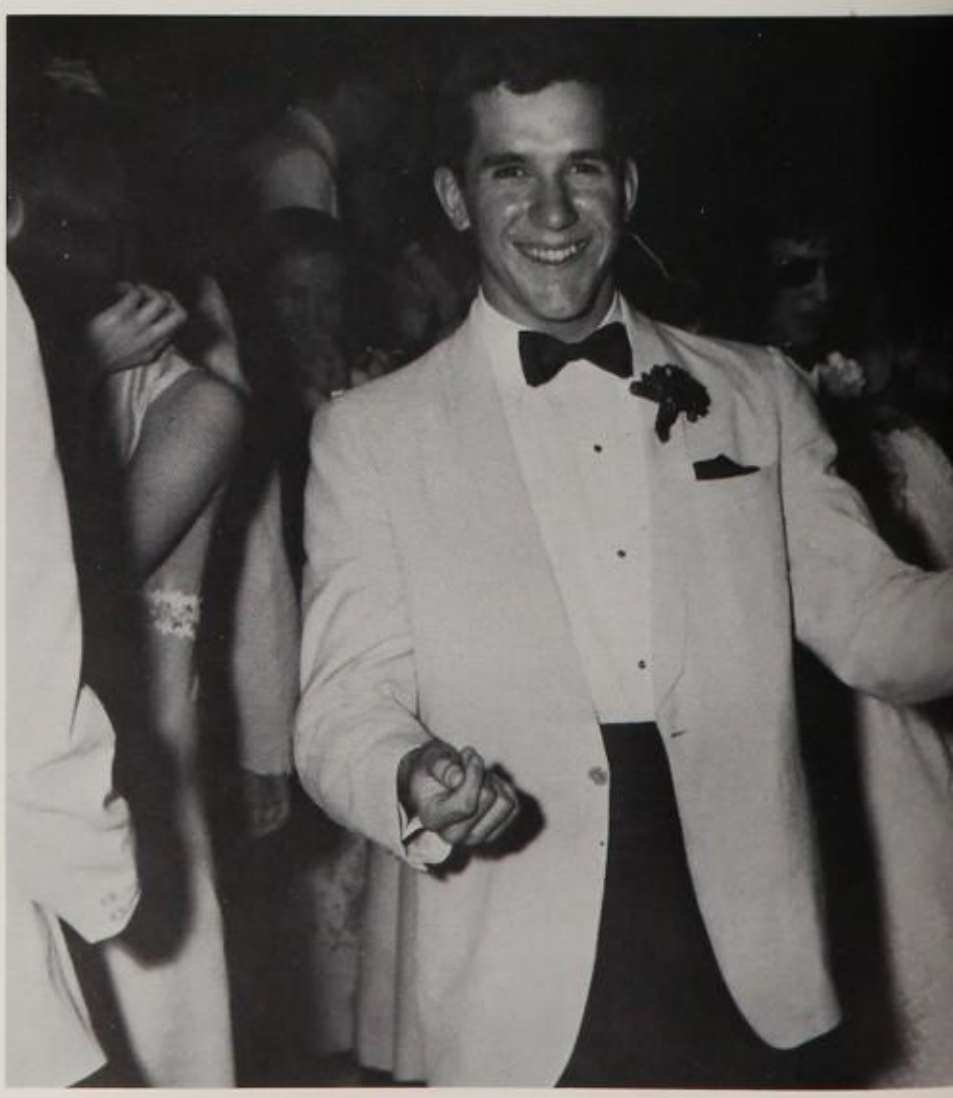
REGINA-LOYALA BASKETBALL GAME—After postponements and delays, Loyola finally found time to host Regina in its second annual inter-school basketball game. It was a hard fought game from beginning to end. Loyola, however, bounced back from its defeat last year and played heads up ball. Regina had its finest squad on the court to face Loyola's very athletic student council. We look forward to next year eagerly for another gruelling game.



PROM '68—Every spring our seniors prepare for one night more than they prepare for all their final exams. THE night—senior prom.

Weeks of saving, designated days for bid sales, tux measuring, table arrangements, and post-prom restrictions all lead up to the day. Few are left behind, very few.

Then it arrives. Our dates are stunning in their radiant beauty. We are like caterpillars transformed into butterflies. Usual Levi's and sweatshirts are shed for swank tuxedoes. On to the Palmer House. A fancy and filling dinner with date and friends, then a few fleeting hours of dancing. The crowd disperses to the Empire Room, Camelia House, and the Boulevard Room. Comedians, more food, great shows, and more dancing move the magical evening onward. The chapel is filled at 3:30 AM for Mass. Soon the night is over. In the early morning hours, we drop into bed and realize that those happy hours that seemed like seconds were our senior prom.



GRADUATION—As freshman we held the seniors, those towering important-looking men whom we rushed past in the halls, in reverent awe. Three swift years pass and we watch the freshman rush down the halls past us. Walking pace is not the only variable that separates us as seniors from freshmen. Maturity and knowledge, those abstract qualities that one recognizes in a person when they are present, make the big difference.

Four years of gaining maturity and knowledge. The high school career. "Retirement" takes the form of graduation and the traditional gold watch, the form of a diploma. This night, that diploma, is the summation of four year's work for each graduate. For each, a different degree of maturity, a different amount of knowledge, a different walking pace.

Activities

A little known but important group at Loyola is the Sodality. Directed by Fr. Paul J. Clifford, S. J., the Sodality this year grew larger than ever before. The size presented some problems, all easily overcome.

At their Sunday meetings the sodalists discussed social, moral, and theological problems. Their apostolic work on Saturdays and after school brought them into contact with Christ's poor, the aged, the ghetto dweller, the sick, and the retarded.

The Sodality—its meetings, apostolates, individual prayers and efforts—brings its men into fuller lives closer to Christ.

Sodality

Debate

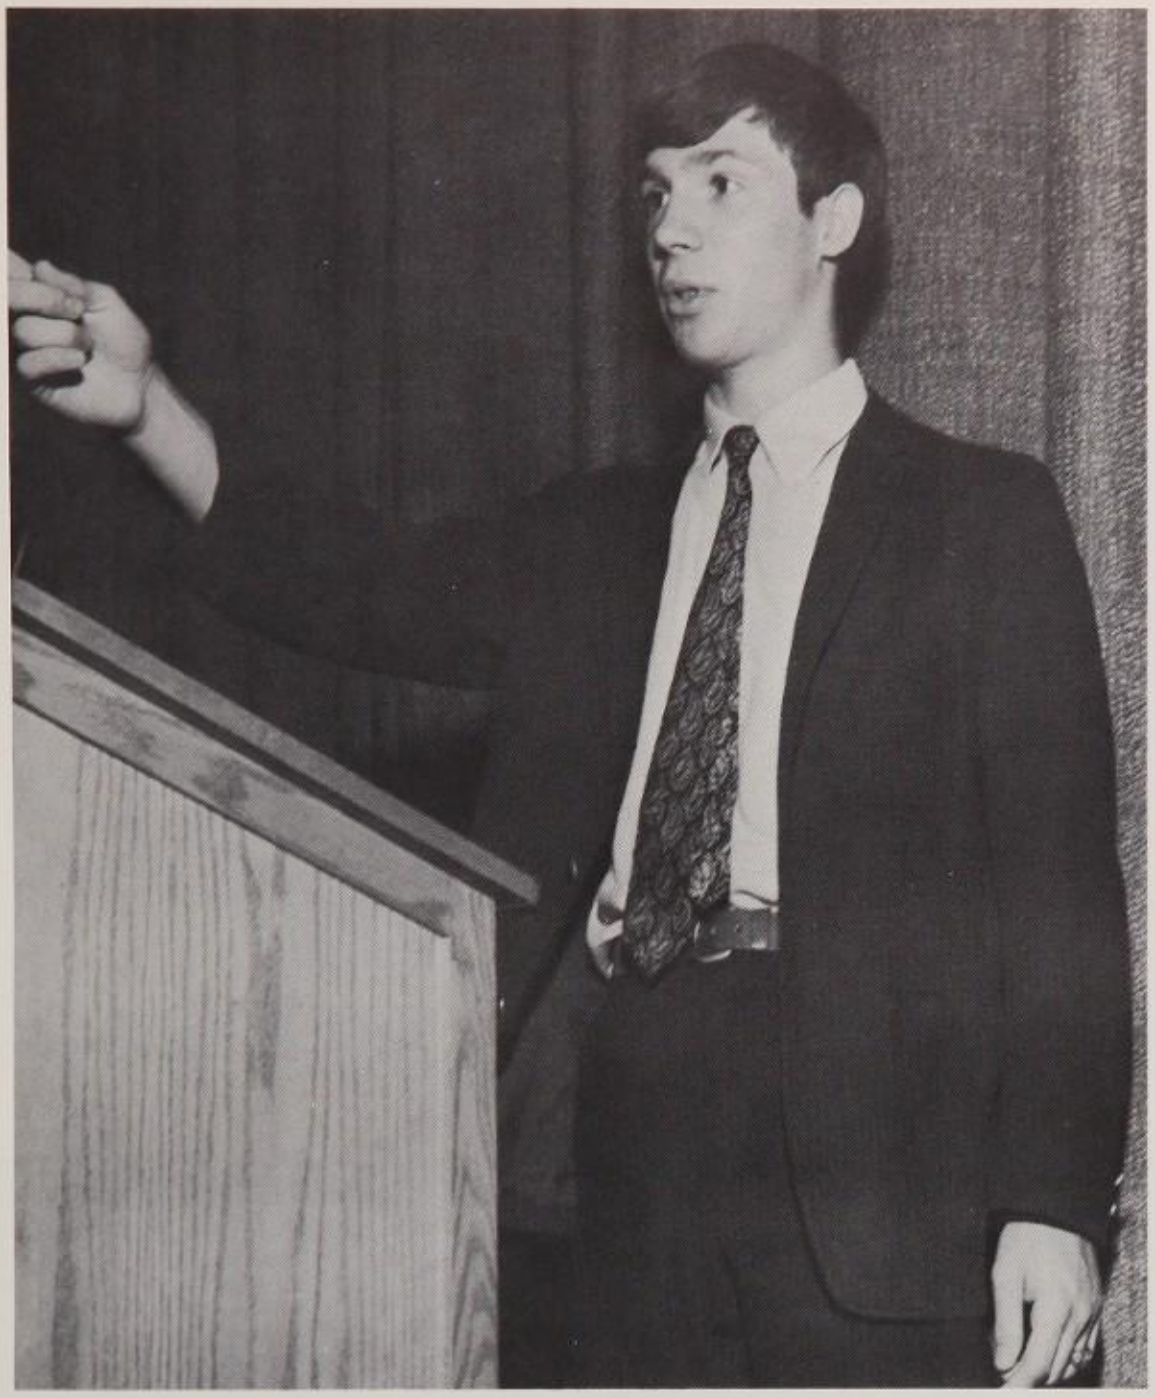
The Debate team, with its impressive record, continues to bring glory to Loyola. Long hours are spent in preparing index cards, and gathering ideas together coherently, for the debate. Under the careful eyes of moderators Mr. Hal Ross and Mr. John Goldberg, S. J., the team has done its usual good job this year.



The musical director of Loyola, Mr. Kenneth Bartosz, has built the band from a handful of dedicated musicians to one of the most respected organizations here at the Academy.

The band is not only the group of musicians who play at school functions, but is the talented group who marches and leads cheers at sports contests. A special part of the band took home the Hogan Trophy at the Talvue for their exhibition of their talents in jazz music.

So now the band that was laughed at only a few years ago has grown into a body that Loyolans are proud to say, "That's OUR band!"

Band

Glee Club

The mellow voices under the direction of Mr. Lawrence Reuter, S. J., have made a big hit this year at Loyola. Several concerts in the spring gave proof that the long hours of practicing paid off. The Glee Club is growing each year, and with its increase in size, there is also an increase of quality. Congratulations for another tuneful year.

Prep

The school newspaper, the Prep, has had another fine year. There have been many jokes about the paper, but ask anyone his honest opinion, and you get a very complimentary report. Each arrival of a new issue is awaited for eagerly, and almost always good sales is the password. Mr. David McNutt, S. J., and editor Jack Knight have done a fine job this year in presenting the news interestingly to the students.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society, NHS, is the only organization that is recognized nationally. Its moderator, Fr. Charles Graf, S. J., is proud of this fact, and will happily inform you any time you ask him about NHS.

NHS members have many duties. One that students are familiar with is tutoring. Teachers turn in lists of pupils who have asked for, or need, tutoring. Then a work schedule is given to the members. One other duty of importance is helping new students get acquainted with their new school. The members of NHS can truly be proud of their work and of their achievements.

Chess Club

Mr. Nelson Minnich has coached his team to a very successful year. Strength has been established in all four years, and following years should bear this fact out. Chess was involved with an experiment this year. The Chess team played a match with our neighbor to the north, New Trier West, a public school. This was just a beginning of more inter-scholastic competition between Catholic and Public schools. So let's hear it for the progressive Chess team.

Cheerleaders

L-O-Y-O-L-A! The students cry, with voices led by a small group of men who make a lot of noise, the cheerleaders. The men lead the cheers at football, basketball, wrestling, and other Loyola contests. An accusation of the death of student spirit this year was soon drowned out by cheers led by this spirited group.

Science Research Club

The Science Research Club is an innovation at Loyola. It is the combination of all the science clubs into one. Several advantages have been gained by doing this. Instead of attacking only one side of a problem, many sides of the same problem can be explored. Under the guidance of Mr. Pasquesi, the Science Research Club has had a very rewarding first year.

MSH

This year the Men of the Sacred Heart, an important spiritual function at Loyola Academy, provided the interested student with some "Soul-searching." Meeting each Monday under the direction of several priests, scholastics and laymen, these Loyolans discovered the world a bit deeper. Under the guidance of Father Burrill, S. J., these men of Jesus experienced lively discussion, and attempted a greater awareness of a life with Christ. Spirituality is something lacking in this world of ours and if you are looking for Christianity, you will find the Men of the Sacred Heart a welcome aid.

History Forum

Mr. Nelson Minnich continued to probe into the past through the History Forum this year. He discovered not only the facts, but going a step further—found the reasons why some civilizations did what they did. History is a well-liked subject and if explored deeper it can prove fascinating. Discussion, the Forum's main function, gives the student a chance to express his views on any subject, a point that Mr. Minnich has always stressed. Join the History Forum next year and broaden your horizons a little.

Guild

Walk down any hallway and posters will confront you, informing you of the weeks events and happenings to come. Mr. Wagner, S. J., moderated this young group of talented artists and, under his guidance, the concrete walls of Loyola Academy were transformed into reminders for Loyolans. The bolstering of any school's spirit can not be underestimated and is becoming more important here at Loyola, where many students need a little encouragement to continue supporting the school.

Whether drawn in jest or seriousness, posters are essential to school spirit. They are a consolement to the downcast and a booster for the spirited. Congratulations to another noble band of Loyolans.

Camera Club

The Camera Club provides Loyola with visible records of Rambler achievements and occurences, capturing them on film. Pictures will always be an important part of communication, and moments otherwise lost forever can be viewed upon the pages of the Prep or Year through the vigilance of our Camera Club photographers. Mr. Robert Ross, S. J. moderated the Camera Club this year.

Athletics

Tennis

It takes a long time to build a dynasty. And once built, it's even harder to sustain. The '68 Loyola Academy tennis team has made the hard easy; they have furthered the Rambler domination of Catholic League tennis. Under the tutelage of Father Gene Dwyer, the LA netmen put another outstanding season under their belts. Fine playing and good sportsmanship have characterized the team on its way to victory. Each individual effort has contributed to the total team success. Once again a Catholic League championship has been rightfully earned by the Father Dwyer and his consistent LA tennis team.

Soccer

Fall and spring, a hardy crew of Loyolans don shorts and cleats and head for the soccer field. They run and they sweat. They kick the ball and bounce it off their heads. All for the love of sport and the desire to win. Their sharp determination and excellent play have earned them a fine record in a highly competitive league. Loyola can truly be proud of this strong team. In only three years, soccer has grown to be a respected sport here at the Academy. Hats off to Coach Les Sendy and the entire Loyola soccer team.

Football

It all starts under a mid-August sun. Back breaking, bone crushing, all-out effort is all that's required for the morning session; but in the afternoon things really get rough. Why would any LA man go through this grinding ordeal day after day? Victory—the culmination of weeks of grueling practices—is reason enough for any LA man to take such a beating day after day . . .

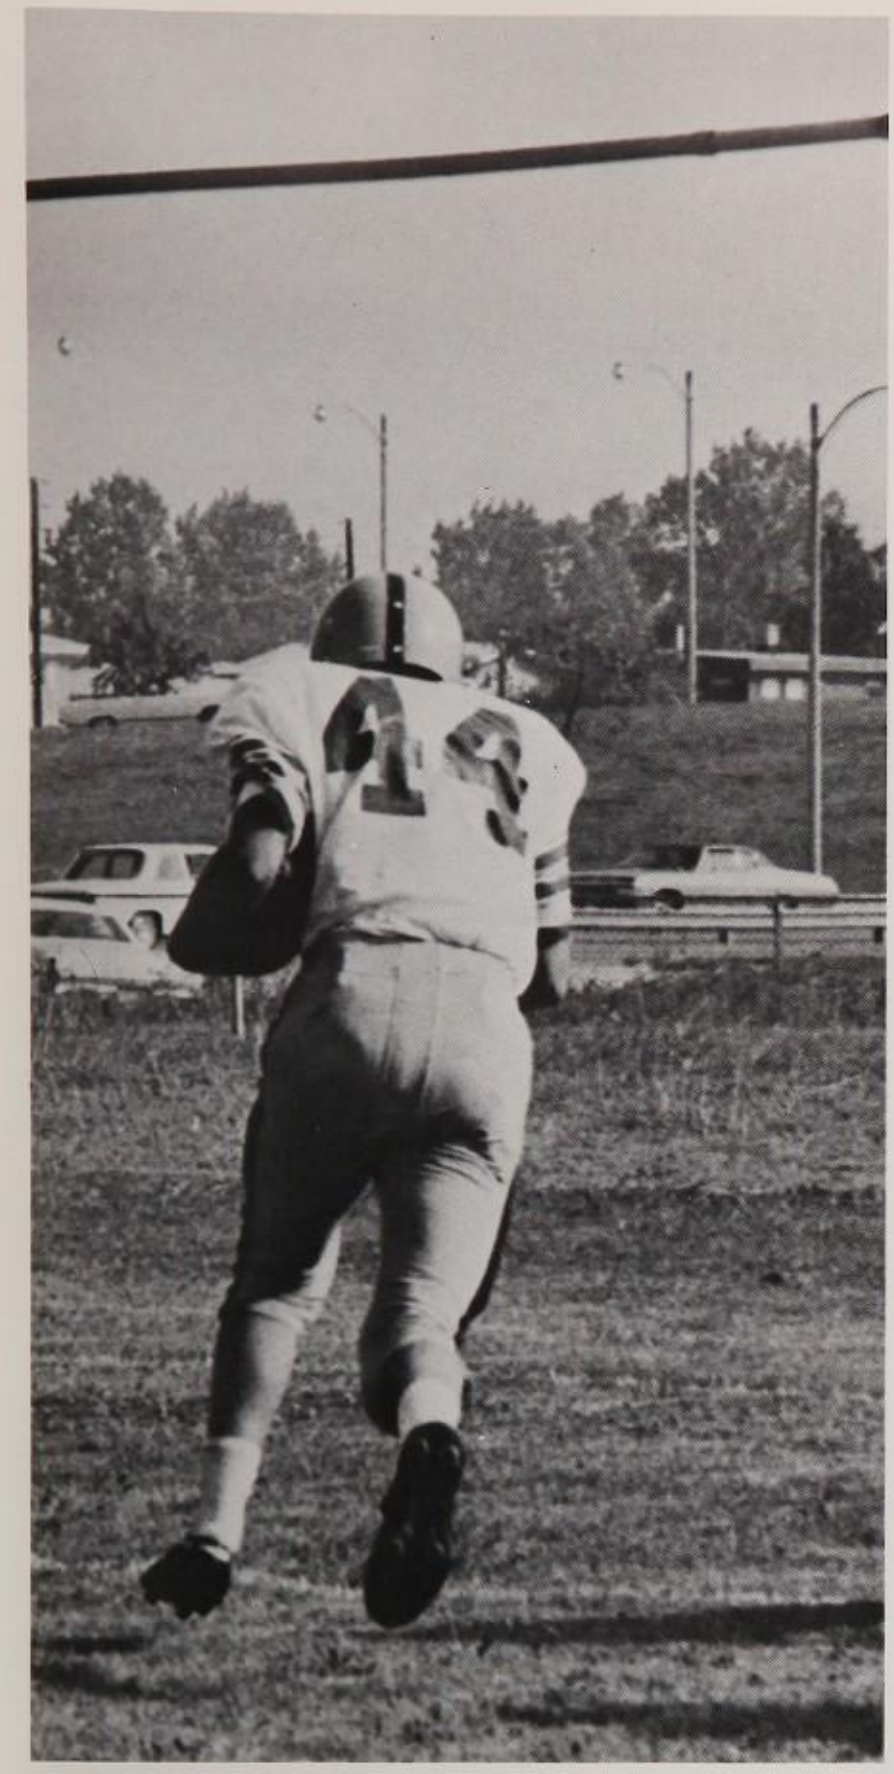
. . . The crowd lauds the efforts of the team, the coach gives his final instructions, and the players show that they are worthy of being called a championship team. This is an autumn Sunday at Loyola. Then the monotony of practice begins again. Then, just before the drudgery of week day practices blots out the memory of last Sunday's victory, Sunday comes again—and with it, another win for the Ramblers. . .



. . . The season rolls on, and Loyola's string of victories grows. Marred by only one loss in regular season play, Loyola entered the play-offs with hopes of another, a third city championship. Victorious in the semi-finals, Loyola went into the Catholic League championship game with high hopes, only to be shattered by Mt. Carmel. All in all, Coach Spoo and the Ramblers are to be congratulated for their fine showing in the Catholic League.

The '67-'68 basketball team has made a true Loyola showing this season. After a few disappointing years, the Ramblers have once again bounced back into contention in the Catholic League. The Student body has also made a good showing in support of their polished team. This combination of student backing and team effort has given the Rambler B-ball team a new spark of life . . .

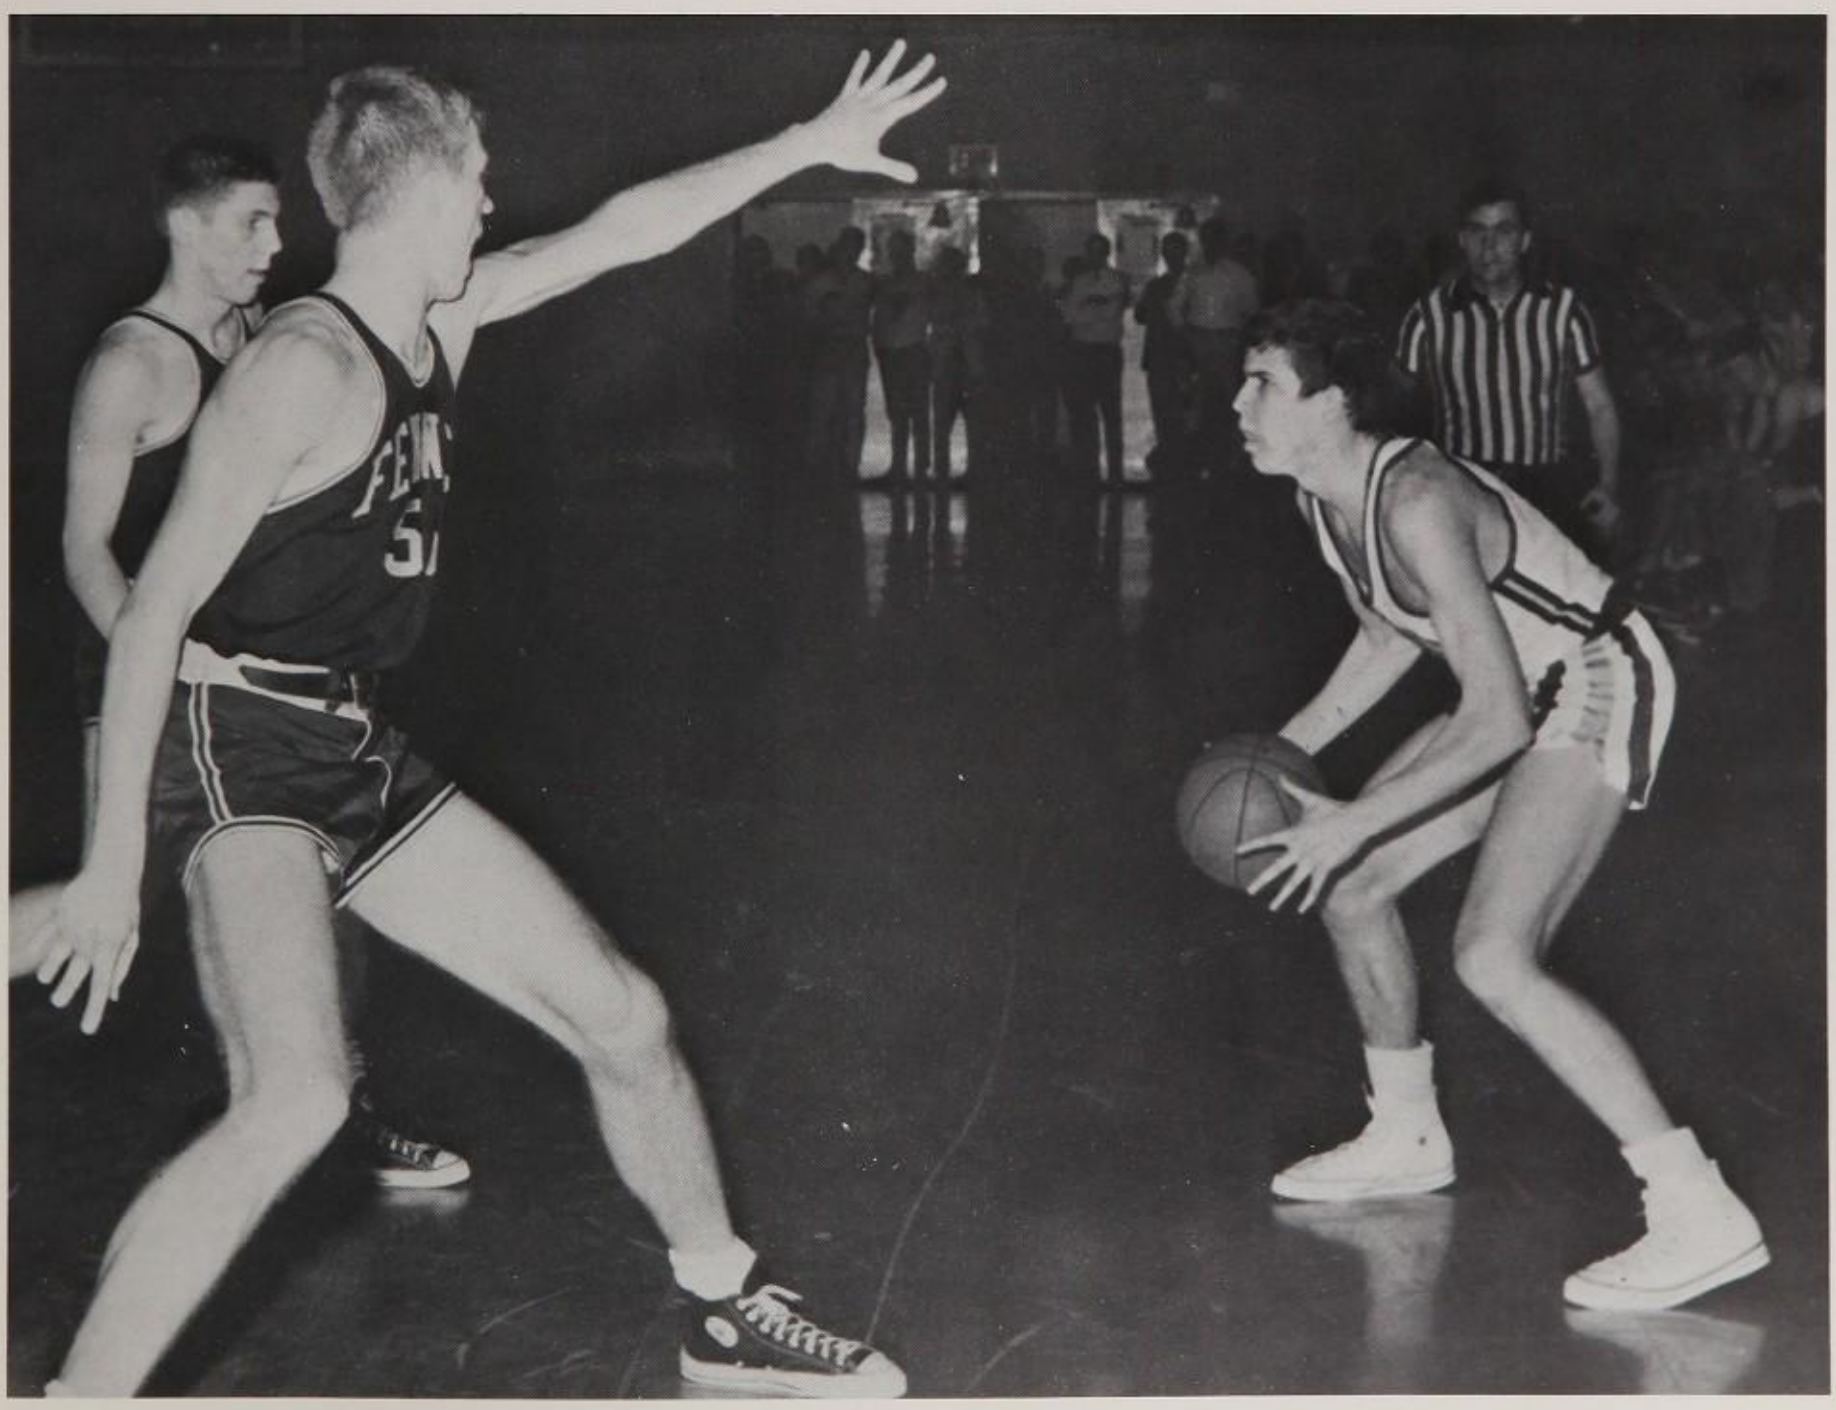
. . . Coach Jim Arneberg has greatly improved the play and ball handling of his first team at Loyola. The season's record is proof enough. High shooting percentages and fast breakaways have given the Ramblers the needed push to out score their foes. A play-off berth in late February was the realization of the team's efforts throughout the entire season. De Paul's Alumni Hall could hardly hold all of the ardent Loyola fans . . .



. . . Loyola rolled past its first semi-final opponent only to be halted by Fenwick in the Rambler's next contest. All in all, the team produced a fantastic season under the watchful eye of Coach Arneberg. Immediately our thoughts turn to next year. With one year of experience under the coach, the returning letterman will give the team its needed momentum to go on to another victorious season.

Inexperience plagued the Lights this year; but what they lacked in experience, they made up for in hustle. Plenty of youthful talent making its appearance on the court this year promises to provide an unbeatable team next season. Loyola can be proud of the efforts of Coach John O'Loughlin and the team for giving their all each time they came onto the court.

Swimming

1968 proved to be another successful season for Coach Dick Shiman and his band of LA swimmers. For the third consecutive year our fighting finmen brought back the National Catholic Swimming Championship to Loyola, beating Fenwick and all other competition in a close meet at Villanova. Coach Shiman praised his team's balance in their many successes, but singled out no one as dominating, it was more everyone working for the team . . .

Wrestling

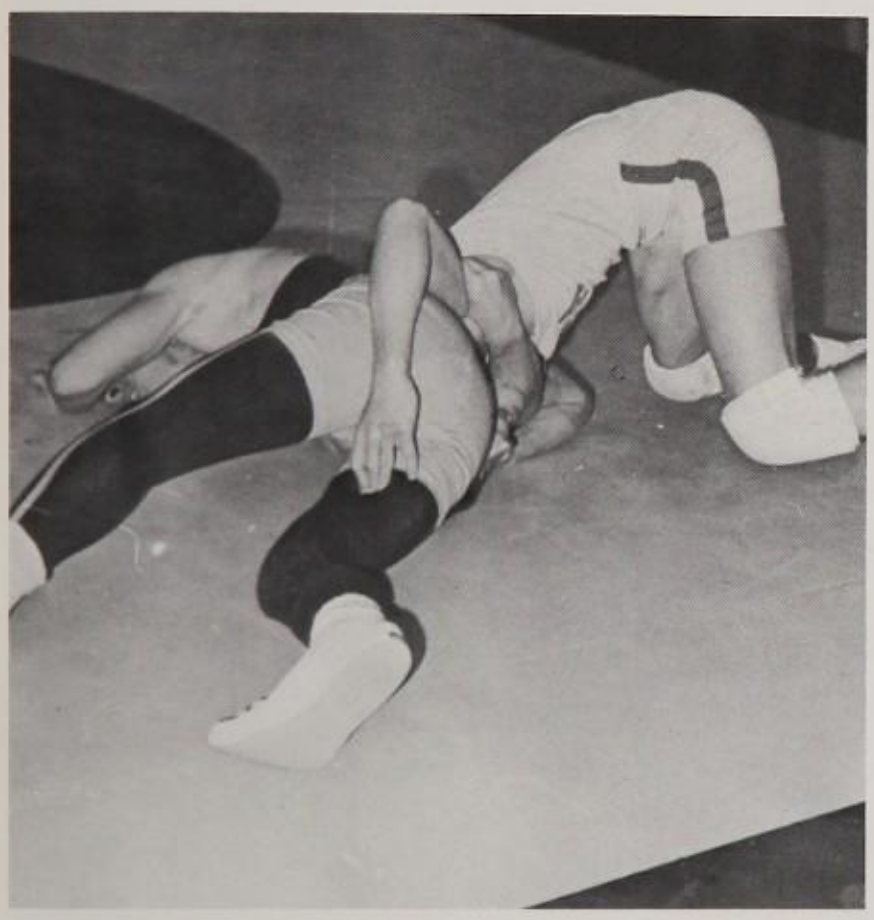
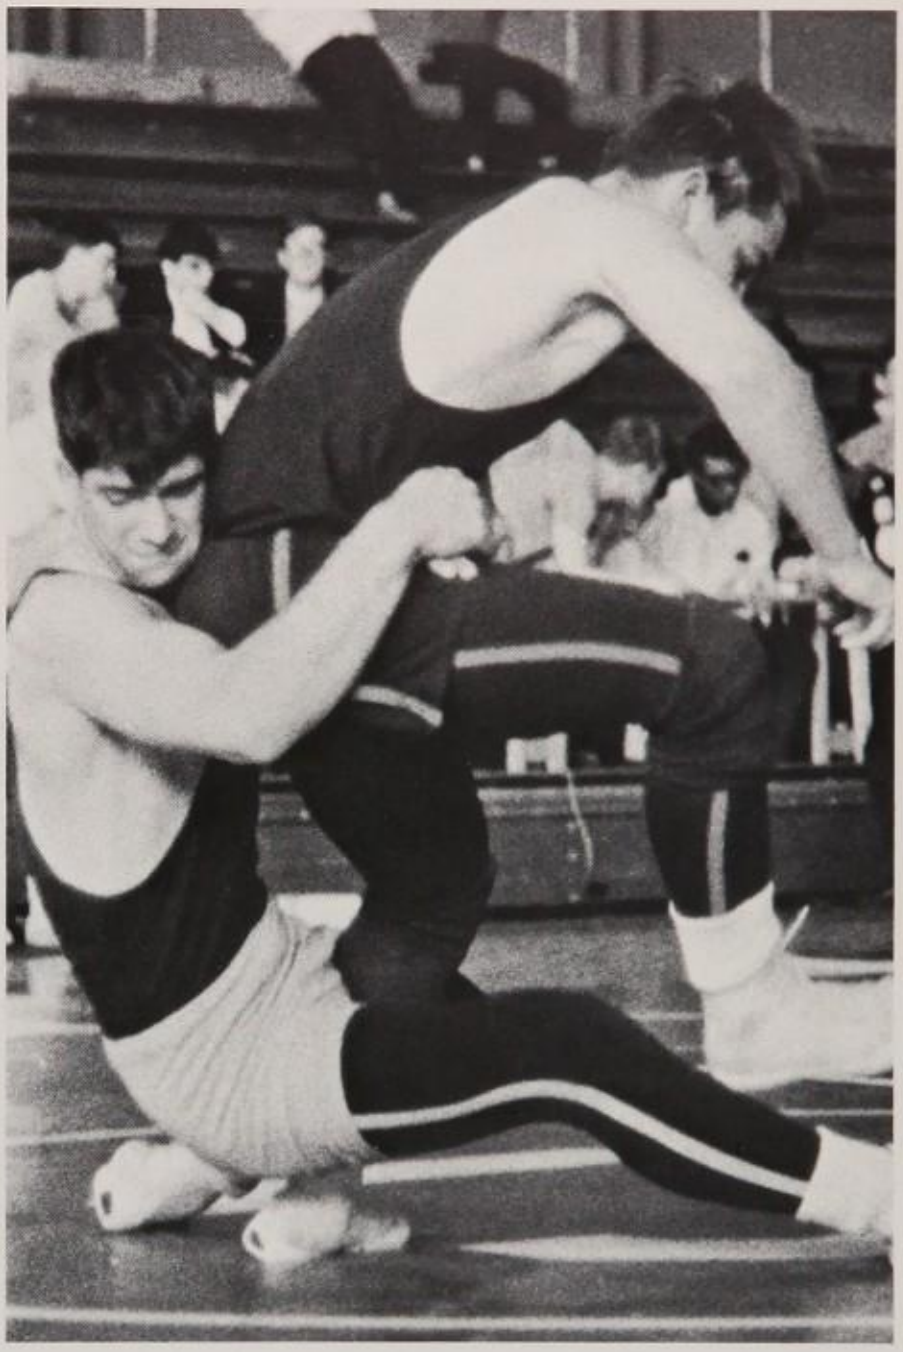
The life of a Loyola wrestler is a tough, painful, gruelling battle with demanding coach Fred Wright. They, more so than most other teams, have a training schedule which invariably produces excellent physical fitness . . .





. . . Loyola grapplers this year sponsored their first annual national tournament, and judging by their good performance, it was successful. Let's hope that they will take down, reverse, and pin their opponents with continued success.

Track-Cross Country

This year the Loyola Track Team was coached by Mr. Frank Amato and going into the City Championship, they had a very impressive record. The Loyola Thinclads had a thorough training and they ran and jumped their way into the finals. Though they didn't come out on the top, they showed that they can win and next year seems to be the year of Loyola's track team.

Coach Bueter led the Cross Country team to more Rambler victories this season and led his team to the finals. Next September sees the fleet of foot prepared for more tests, that will renew the hopes for a championship.

Baseball

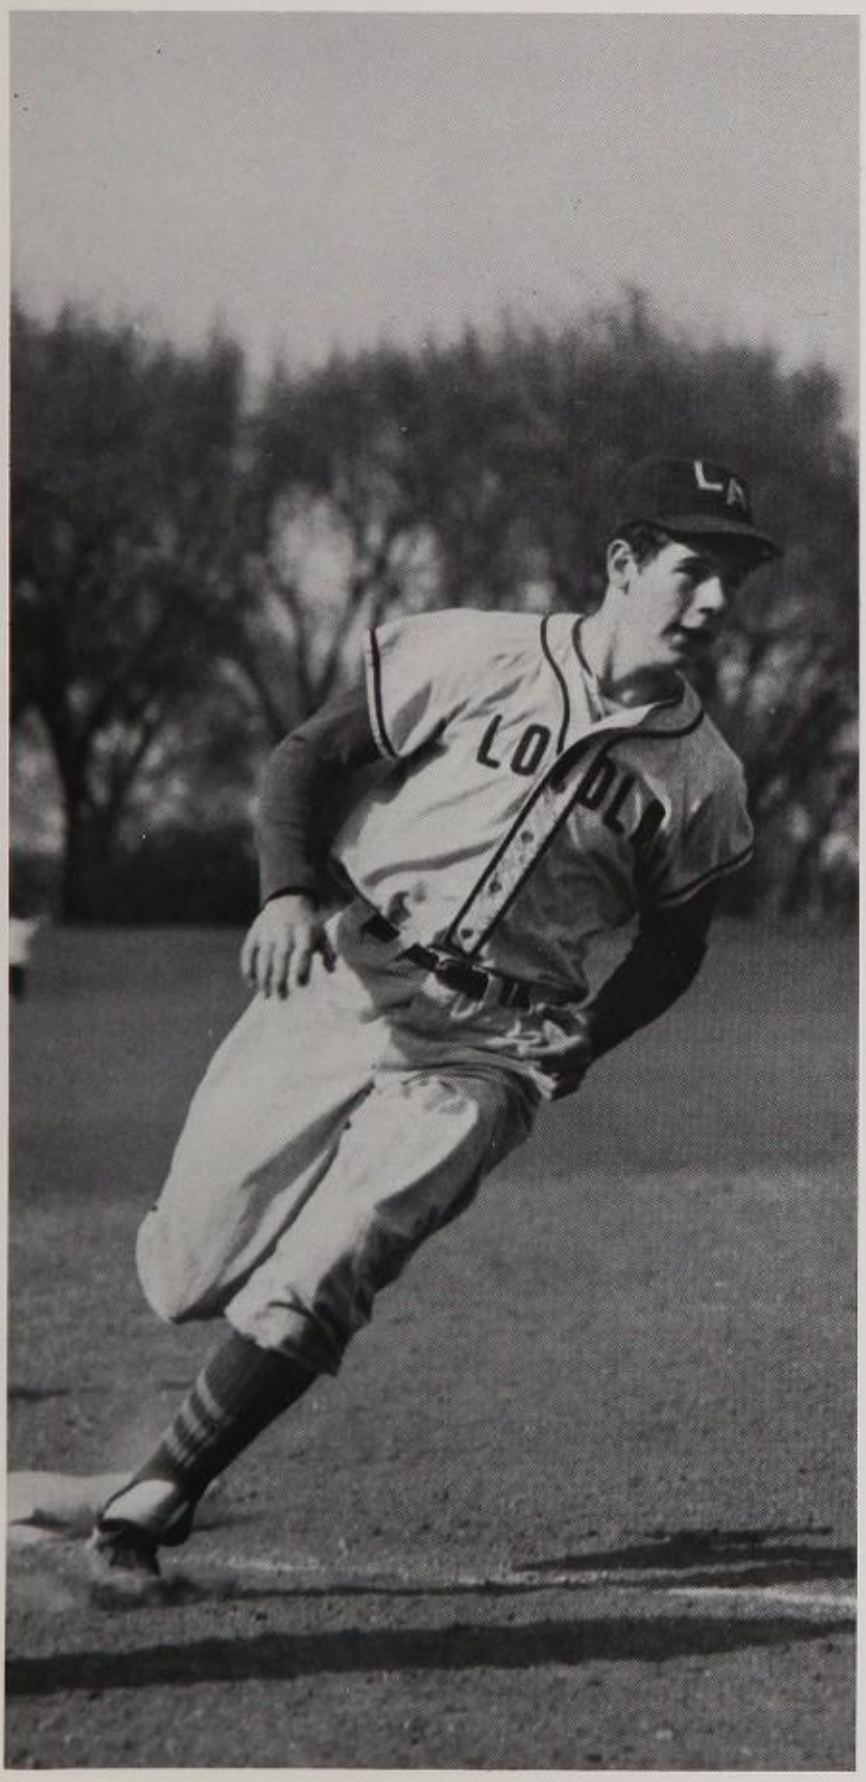
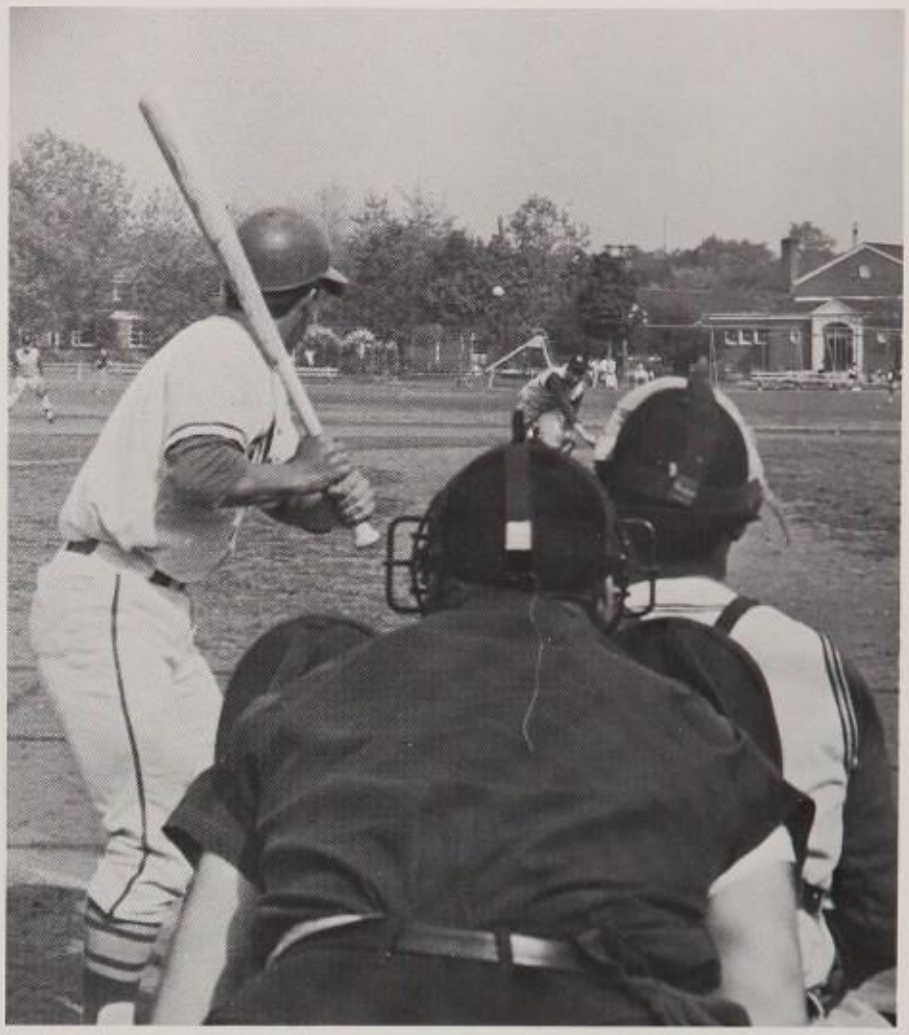
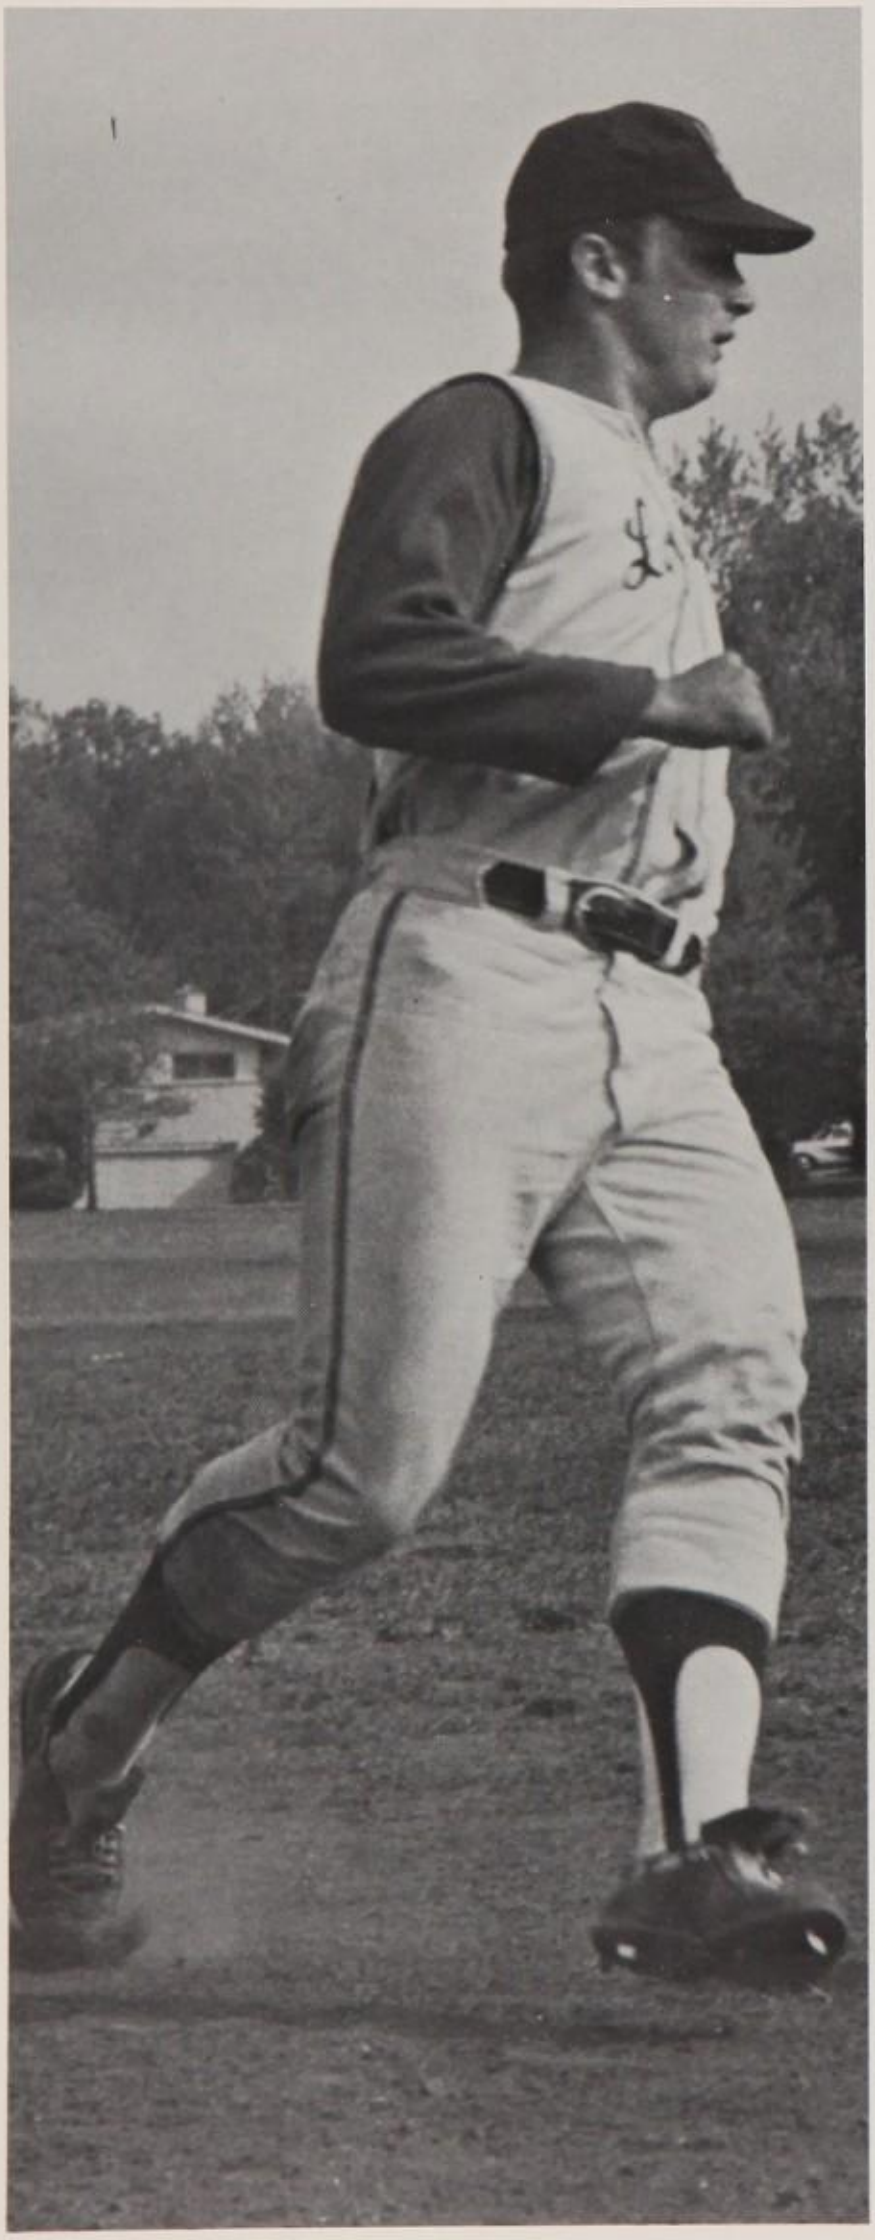
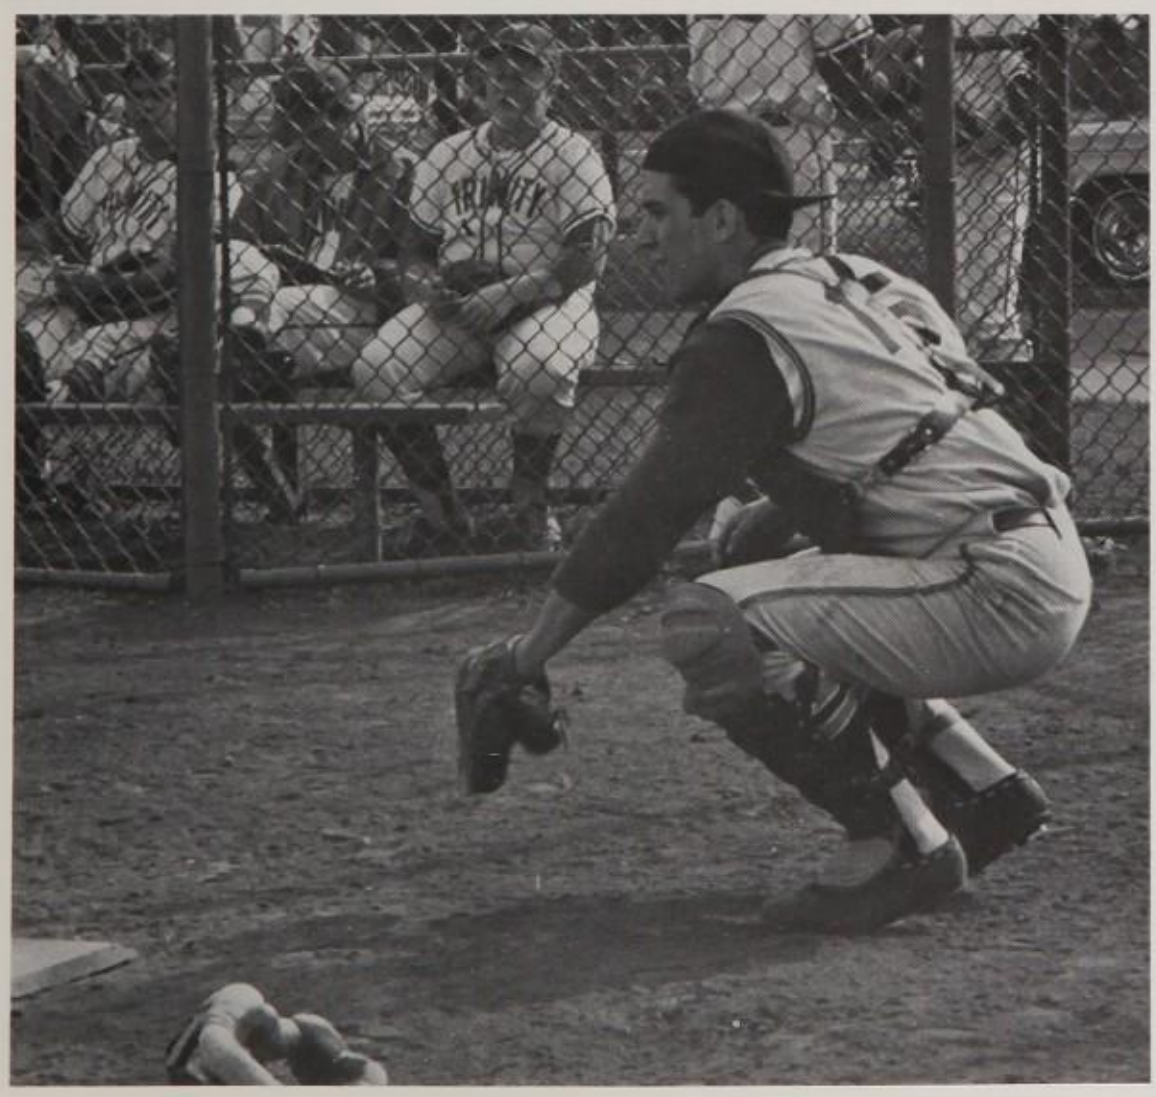
BASEBALL—For the first time in four years Loyola has made the Catholic League play-offs. After taking North section's first place (tying with Gordon) Loyola went into the pay-offs confidently. With good hitting from Kevin Murtha, and good pitching from Hank Hyde and Danny Del Fava, Loyola rolled over Leo in the semi-finals in two games. Meanwhile, Brother Rice took two from Gordon in their semi-final match.

Loyola against Rice for the Catholic League Championship. Rice took the first game 6-2. Then it was do or die for Loyola, in the best two out of three series. Down 3-1 in the sixth inning, Loyola came up with three runs to beat Rice 4-3. Now the final and deciding game, both teams were tense, both hoped for the title; but only one team can have their dreams fulfilled. WHO? THE RAMBLERS!









Loyola Academy has proved its athletic ability in football, swimming, wrestling, baseball, and tennis. All it had to do, then, was succeed in golf. Coached by second-year Latin teacher Brother Elsaesser, the Rambler fivesome came to the Catholic City Championship with an impressive 4-2 record.

After arriving an hour early on the overcast and bleak twenty-third day of May the linksmen practiced earnestly for the test ahead. As they strode down Gleneagle's green fairways the exciting competition made them a hopefully invincible team. When each stroke had finally been tallied, the outcome was announced—Loyola had beaten Fenwick by the slimmest of margins, one stroke.

Exemplifying their amazing depth is the individual results; Pat Kenny, 77; Noel Thomas, 78; Mark Anderson, 79; Steve McElroy, 80. Brother Elsaesser looks to next year with hopes of another city championship and if the linksmen repeat the spirit with which they played this year they will have a good chance at giving Loyola its second city title in golf.
